FLEMINGTON, N.J. – May 16, 2006 – Revelation Generation (www.revelationgeneration.org), an annual day-long Christian Music festival celebrating renewal, worship, and fellowship, today announced the lineup for its 2006 outdoor concert, September 2nd at Revelation Farms in Frenchtown, N.J, from 11 a.m to 10 p.m. Popular Christian and “crossover” music artists such as Relient K, Newsboys, MXPX, KJ-52, Salvador, Plumb, and House of Heroes will perform at what is being billed as the “event of the summer,” along with others such as Brian Littrell of the Backstreet Boys, fresh off his top-selling solo album release earlier this month.

Now in its second year, Revelation Generation will again be held at Revelation Farms, a 140-plus acre property in Hunterdon County. In addition to musical performances, the all-day festival will feature speakers including Duffy Robbins and well-known actor Stephen Baldwin, as well as a high-adrenaline skateboarding demonstration by the King of Kings Skating Ministry. The family-friendly event will also feature a prayer tent, puppet shows, face painting, rides, sporting areas for beach volleyball and ultimate frisbee, and a local vendor tent offering food, drinks, apparel, and other goods.

“The turnout to our inaugural event last year was fantastic, exceeding 4,000. We were especially touched by the feedback from the attendees and the spirit they all shared, which ultimately inspired us to take the festival to the next level,” said Robert Grom, co-founder of Revelation Generation with wife Kim Grom. “This year, we feel we have put together a complete entertainment and spiritual experience – from the star-studded lineup of music artists and speakers, to the full-range of family-oriented games and activities.”
